

A. Between one and two Saturday afternoon. I had just finished my dinner and picked up the New York Times and started to read it.

Q. You didn't know his body had been found and he had been killed?

A. Absolutely nothing.

Q. You didn't know anything about your sister having interviewed Mr. Florance?

A. All I know, she told me she had spoken to the police.

Q. Say anything about the possibility of his having eloped with Mrs. Mills?

A. Never spoke of it.

Q. I mean after his disappearance?

A. No, she never spoke to me at all.

Q. When did you first see Mr. Florance?

A. It was the day of the funeral or the day before.

Q. Give you any advice in the case?

A. No.

Q. There has been a report that on some occasion before Saturday, when the bodies of Mr. Hall and Mrs. Mills were found, that you were down by a certain fire house talking to Captain Regan, and that you made a remark that something was going to happen? Do you remember such a remark?

A. The only thing was I said, was that as far as I can remember, was I felt that something was wrong in the house in the family and simply said, if there was anything you could do to help me would you do it. Just simply a man to man question.

Q. When did this occur?

A. I told you how it was. I must touch for a moment on something that has nothing to do with this. I had received notice the
